

A MESSAGE FROM THE CEO

Shooting in Las Vegas, Nevada on January 4, 2010

Court Security Officer Stanley Cooper was killed yesterday at the Las Vegas, Nevada courthouse. Stan was an Akal employee since 2000, and a CSO since 1994. He was the senior CSO in Las Vegas. Before beginning his second career protecting the Federal Judicial complex, Stan was a 26-year Las Vegas Metro Police officer who served with distinction. Stan was a fixture in the community, known and well liked by the CSO family and the entire law enforcement community of Las Vegas. He leaves three grown sons who live in the Las Vegas area.

CSO Cooper was murdered yesterday by a 66 year old man with a long history of violent criminal acts, and a grievance over a civil case at the Federal court, who had burned down his own home that morning and clearly planned to end his life and the lives of others. Stan was shot first, from close range, before he had any chance to respond. Because of CSO Cooper's heroism and the rapid response and pursuit of the killer by four CSOs, US Marshals Deputies and other federal agents, the assailant was shot and killed across the street from the courthouse without being able to cause any other life threatening injuries. He did manage to wound a Deputy US Marshal, who appears to be in good condition and will recover.

Gurutej Khalsa, Mike Francis and Jim Mosier are representing Akal in Las Vegas today, meeting with the US Marshals Service at the courthouse, and with Stan's family this morning. We are providing all the support that we can for the family, for the CSOs who were involved in the shoot-out, and for all the CSOs in Las Vegas who are mourning Stan's loss.

We have also been discussing with the family a Memorial Fund for Stan that everyone can participate in, and information about the fund and sending condolences is available on the following page.

Thanks to everyone at Akal for their professional and caring response to these tragic events. Most of you interact with CSOs every day, and their job can appear to be routine. As we learned yesterday, it is not. Their lives are on the line every day, and your professional and personal support of their efforts is very important and appreciated.
